General Information:

The therapeutic relationship is unique in that it is a highly personal and at the same time, a contractual agreement. Given this, it is important to reach a clear understanding about how your therapeutic relationship with your therapist will work, and what each person can expect. This consent will provide a clear framework for the work together. Feel free to discuss any of this with your therapist. Please read and indicate that you have reviewed this information and agree to it by signing at the end of this document.

The Therapeutic Process:

You have taken a very positive step by deciding to seek therapy. The outcome of your treatment depends largely on you or your child's willingness to engage in this process, which may, at times, result in considerable discomfort. Remembering unpleasant events and becoming aware of feelings attached to those events can bring on strong feelings of anger, depression, anxiety, etc. There are no miracle cures. We cannot promise that your or your child's behavior or circumstance will change. We can promise to support you and do our very best to understand you and repeating patterns, as well as to help you clarify what it is that you want for yourself.

Confidentiality:

The session content and all relevant materials to your or your child's treatment will be held confidential unless you request in writing to have all or portions of such content released to a specifically named person/persons. Limitations of such client held privilege of confidentiality exist and are itemized below:

1. If a client threatens or attempts to commit suicide or otherwise conducts him/her self in a manner in which there is a substantial risk of incurring serious bodily harm.
2. If a client threatens grave bodily harm or death to another person.
3. If the therapist has a reasonable suspicion that a client or other named victim is the perpetrator, observer of, or actual victim of physical, emotional or sexual abuse of children under the age of 18 years.
4. Suspicions as stated above in the case of an elderly person who may be subjected to these abuses.
5. Suspected neglect of the parties named in items #3 and # 4.
6. If a court of law issues a legitimate subpoena for information stated on the subpoena.
7. If a client is in therapy or being treated by order of a court of law, or if information is obtained for the purpose of rendering an expert's report to an attorney.
